Dear Stuart:

I am pleased to confirm that your session for our AAA National Travel Conference more than met expectations and generated a well deserved standing ovation from our senior staff audience.

I intended to stay for the first thirty minutes but based on your performance and the audience's reaction, stayed for the entire presentation.

You have a unique way of keeping everyone focused and at attention. Your use of participative exercise and humour definitely "positively traumatized" our club managers and executives!

More importantly, you consistently balanced entertainment with practical and immediately usable tools that can be used to train others at the clubs. Your selling process completely respects our member driven work culture and presents a Member Relationship Management training solution based on honesty, integrity and respect for our members.

It is without hesitation that I recommend your professional speaker services to our clubs or to any organization looking for a speaker who can customize and deliver a relevant message that is unforgettable, personally adaptable and easy to use. Thanks for helping make our conference a success!

Sincerely yours,
