Dear Stuart,

Western CPE is committed to delivering quality continuing professional education (CPE) to the accounting professional. In 2004, Western CPE hosted 25 resort conferences in North America, and offered more than 120 self-study courses, and sponsored 44 one- and two-day seminars.

The core of our program is quality instruction presented by dynamic speakers. We recruit some of the finest and most engaging presenters in the country and encourage them to make their classes as interactive and upbeat as possible. We make sure that every course provides practical, hands-on tips for dealing with the challenges that CPAs face in their daily work lives. We're not afraid to "break the mold" in regard to course topics - the accounting CPE industry needs novel courses.

This letter serves to confirm that you definitely met and exceeded our expectations in 2004 by consistently drawing high evaluation at all of the six resort conference at which you presented.

You definitely met all of our expectations in 2004 as one of our engaging & dynamic speakers who delivers real and relevant business communication tools that are immediately usable.

It is without hesitation we recommend your professional speaker and trainer services to any organization seeking real, measurable and consistent session evaluation results!

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Paul Larson
